My home is apparently under a boil water advisory, which is not only the second in a week, but the second for which we were not notified by the utility provider. We received a call on Friday, March 14 (the caller said the date was March 12) lifting the boil advisory we had been under since Monday, of which we hadn't been notified. Now I understand that we are under another advisory that we only learned of when a neighbor called to ask about their water being cloudy. The representative claimed they notified citizens and anyone who didn't get a call needed to update their information. This is clearly not accurate, as we received the call on Friday and we receive several calls a week about no swimming advisories resulting from their frequent discharges of sewage into Lake Wylie.

I look forward to a response as to what progress is being made to resolve the ongoing and deteriorating issues with this negligent utility.

Regards,

Molly Gassel
